

Home » Tech&Facils

DFT sells first Scanity HDR 35mm WetGate system

12 August, 2016

Film scanning company DFT has sold its first Scanity HDR 35mm WetGate system.

The deal was completed with the German facility Omnimago, where the system will be used to repair complex, damaged, delicate and aged film materials.

The Scanity HDR 35mm WetGate was launched at NAB in April. It is designed specifically to provide a real-time organic option for ingesting and managing difficult to fix film transfer issues such as dust and scratch removal.

 Like 0

 Tweet

